What about here? Is there any word here you don't understand? is lippness the noun to like is lipp is the verb is lippness is the noun like some is lippness is the sound of a pencil. What? OK. this term. I want to break this, I start from right down. Right down? Right down. Like this is the... It comes from right down. That means like to take notes, to copy the things that the professor is writing on the board, or copying the things that are in the slides. When you write down, it means you are writing on your notebook. Write down is a phrase of work. Okay. Okay? Okay, because I don't know, writing, I know it, that was... The down is working together to have a different meaning so we have right which is like escrever right we have down just like said down right and write down is anotar because the phrase or verb so together has a different meaning okay make sense okay okay yes yes No, wait, for now it's okay. Okay. So, to break the sleepiness, I start writing down whatever the proffer is speaking or writing on the whiteboard. To break the sleepiness, I start writing down whatever the proffer is speaking or writing on the whiteboard. Perfect. Okay? Okay. Do you usually write down the things your professor writes on the whiteboard? It's very difficult. My professor writes, writes, writes, writes, writes, just the PowerPoint, just the... Oh, doesn't use PowerPoint or use Slides? Just PowerPoint. Yes, like, just, it's very difficult to use the right part. But do you write down the things that are on the slides or just wait? Your professor posted on campus. I asked the professor to push the switcherons maybe for the class to download the tablet I write on the side. Oh, smarter, easier and smart. That's good. Okay.
